But amid all this wealth and | teen pence to the Government! luxury, a Mother toiled in vain for the coarse food that would enable her to give nourishment | ure to France by to-morrow's Steamer; so Lonto a dving infant! And thus is human life in don, this great city painfully diversified.

I passed from this heart-sickening scene over to the Brunswick Hotel, in Hanover-street Square, to pay my respects to ABBOT LAWRENCE, of Boston, whose health, I am happy to say, has improved and is improving. This enterprising and enlightened American Merchant is enjoying the best society of England. His company is sought, not only by the noble in rank, but by those who are ennobled by talent and genius. It is gratifying to see Americans of Mr. Lawrence's intelligence and worth abroad. Their presence here, furnishes the best answer to the malignant and miserable calumnies and caricatures which Mrs. Trolloppe, Basil Hall, and Charles Dickens, have perpetrated upon 'society and manners' in America.

The Queen came in state to-day, from Buck. ingham Palace, (having arrived there from Windsor yesterday,) to prorogue Parliament. This is one of the great Pageants of Monarchy. Having witnessed it once, in all its magnificent emptiness, I am content to let that curtain fall .--Having "no friend at Court" by whose favor I could get into the gallery of the House of Lords, I hired a chair (for seven shillings sterling, by way of vindicating the proverb "that a fool and his money are soon parted,) in a balcony midway between the Horse-Guards and Westminster-Hall, where I sat patiently for three mortal hours, viewing the reality of one of the Royal Processions which we have so often mimicked in Theatres and personified on canvass and paper.

The multitude, ever anxious to see these Royal shows, began to assemble in the avenues leading to Westminster-Hall at 11 o'clock. Every description of vehicle, from the Coaches with emblazoned Arms and liveried Servants, to the plebeian Cab, filled with fashionables, were stationed in lines extending more than a mile along the streets through which Her Majesty would pass. Windows and Balconies were hired by those who either preferred them or could not procure Carriages. Strong detachments of Horse-Guards and Policemen were stationed between Westminster and Buckingham Palace. By one o'clock every one seemed to have got their seats or their Royal cortege came in sight, there was profound silence. The Queen's Trumpeters, with a troop of Horse, came first. Then followed a massive State Coach, with a Guard, containing the Crown. Then came three magnificent State Coaches, drawn by six superb bay horses, led by grooms, in which Members of the Queen's Household were seated. Then came another State Coach, still more magnificent, drawn by six beautifully jet-black horses, in which the Countess of Dunmore, the Earls of Exeter and Liverpool, and the Marquis of Londonderry were seated; and finally, preceded by twelve tenderly dressed and solemn visaged Pages or ushers, on foot, with long staves, came the gorgeous Royal Coach, drawn by eight cream colored horses, in harness richly embossed with gold, and flanked by Horse-Guards, in which the Queen, Prince Albert, the Dutchess of Buecleugh, and Earl Jersey, bert, the Dutchess of Buecleugh, and Earl Jersey, were seated. The Queen was dressed in white satin, with jewels sparkling in a cluster at her forehead. Prince Albert wore a Field Marshal's

The English are rather phlegmatic on such occasions, or the Queen was coldly received. There was no enthusiasm-no acclamations. The few at 7 A. attempts to get up a cheer, as her Majesty was passing, were utterly abortive. There were but passing, were utterly abortive. There were but leaves Middletown daily on the arrival of the Evening Train leaves Middletown daily on the arrival of the Evening Train leaves Middletown daily on the Arrival of the Evening Train few persons of distinction, other than such as is derived from position in the Queen's Household, in the Procession; and among the few I observed our Minister, Hon. Mr. EVERETT, with his daughter, in a bright yellow Coach, with Coachman and out-riders in rich livery, and Mr. E. himself (instead of the plain Republican garb with which BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, JOHN ADAMS, and JOHN JAY used to appear on such occasions,) in full Court Dress, with gold and embroidery. I don't haif like this departure from the simplicity which distinguishes our form of Government though it is certain that the American Minister has acquired great popularity here, and perhaps augments his influence, by his conformity in matters of display and effourts.

You will see the Queen's Speech in the newspaper account of the Pageant. As a Show, it magnificence. But for every useful or practical purpose and end, it was the vainest and the idlest thing imaginable. The Parliament had not a suppose and end, it was the vainest and the idlest thing imaginable. The Parliament had not a suppose and end, it was the vainest and the idlest thing imaginable. thing imaginable. The Parliament had virtually prorogned itself. There were not thirty, if even twenty, Members of either House present. The Speech is an unmeaning form of words, done into sentences by Sir Robert Peel, and read by the Queen, as Hamlet's Players read what was "set down" for them, not as "trippingly," perhaps, and certainly with less effect upon the auditors.

This Royal demonstration exhibited in bold and striking relief, the contrast that exists between the Rich and Poor of England. The trappings upon the horses that drew the Queen's Coach, would have furnished the whole Poor of London with a sumptuous repast. The livery of the fat Coachman who held their reins, would have made the infant I yesterday saw die in its starving Mother's arms, comfortable for the ordinary term of human existence. The solid gold with which that Coach is so expensively and ostentatiously adorned, would raise a thousand families from indigence and suffering to a competency and to happiness. I wished most devoutly that the whole American People could have seen this vainglorious display of the expenses of sustaining a Monarchy. Nothing could have been better calculated to make us love and cherish our own Government and Institutions.

The Old Bailey Assizes are now sitting at Newgate, whither I went to have a peep at their Worships in Wigs and Gowns. The absence of Lawyers in a Court of Justice, struck me with surprise, until I reflected that very few of the involuntary suitors in these Assizes have either money or friends, and are unable, therefore, to pay Counsel. It is due, however, to the Bar of our own State, to say that accused persons there never go to trial without Counsel, however destiriendless. The law is administered here most rigorously in all cases of larceny and forgery. They gave a girl yesterday a year's imprisonment for stealing a handkerchief; and to another, for a petit larceny, it being the second offence, twelve years' transportation, while a man convicted of bigamy, got off with two months in the Penitentiary!

Having heard and read much of the extent and magnitude of the "London Times" Printing Office, I asked and obtained permission (by informing a Proprietor that I belonged to the "Craft,") In walking up Regent-street yesterday I wit- to look through the Establishment. The Paper is worked upon titation. Observing a crowd gathering upon the two Machines that throw off 5,000 sheets an opposite side of the street, I crossed over and saw hour. Thirty Compositors are employed during an infant that had just breathed its last in the the day, and twenty during the night, on Adverarms of its mother, who had been sitting or stand- tisements. CURE OF DYSPEPSIA AND DROPSY.

Mr. Kelly—Dear Sir—I have been afflicted for 8 or 9 years with a distressing pain in my stomach, costiveness in my bowels, my limbs very much swollen. After eating my meals I was in great distress for a short time, and then threw up what I had eaten. In short, sir, I have searcely found rest or comfort during that time. I have tried all kinds of medicine that I could think of, to little or no advantage, and had almost given up all hopes of ever getting any relief, being now 68 years of age. I saw the advertisement of your Double Extract of Sarsaparilla Candy, and I thought I'd try once more. I have taken it now about 6 weeks, and it has completely regulated my system. I now eat any thing that comes before ma, and have not been sick since I commenced taking it. I sincerely and heartily thank God, and reader my pood will and thanks to you, for I believe your Candy has been the meets of giving me heartil and comfort in my old age. You are welcome to make any use of this you may think projer.

SOMETHING NEW IN GOTHAM—House-Keepers Take Notice.—Walley's Patent Gothic Cooking Range. This important improvement, comprises every possi-ble convenience that can be applied to a Cooking Range, and Range. This important improvement, comprises very possible convenience that can be applied to a Cooking Range, and will recommend itself to every house-keeper for its beauty, simplicity, convenience, durability and economy. It is made entirely of cast iron, (Gothie style) 21 inches high, filled up to a level surface; will do double the work of the ordinary range with one half the quantity of fuel, and can be set in any fire place by an ordinary mason in the space of 3 or 4 hours.—
It has the following advantages over all others, viz: A large site Oven on one side and an extra portable Oven on the top of the other side, which can be used or not as convenient; it is so constructed that a part or the whole of the range can be used, and by the adoption of a false grate can be used with the greatest economy in summer or winter; thus obviating the necessity of burning a large quantity of fuel to do a small quantity of work. Also a new arrangement for heating a large quantity of water for Baths or Culinary purposes, together with a contrivance for heating rooms which can be attached if desired. The inventor having spent a great deal of time and inhor in perfecting this Range, can confidently recommend it as the very best and most economical ever offered to the public, and would invite those about erecting buildings, or introducing Croton Water, to call at 106 Fulton st. between Nassau and William sta, or at Geo, F.
